NEWS RELEASE – NOVEMBER 2, 2010

GENERAL PLAN NEWS: FOUR GPAC MEETINGS SET TO BEGIN NOV. 8

The General Plan Advisory Committee (GPAC) for the City of Twentynine Palms has scheduled a series of four upcoming meetings to continue its work on the city's General Plan Update. The GPAC meetings are open to the public and will be held on Monday evenings, beginning at 6 p.m. on Nov. 8, 15, 29, and Dec. 6, at City Hall, 6136 Adobe Road.

The purpose of the meetings is to continue the GPAC's review of the new Draft General Plan and Draft Environmental Impact Report documents, adding comments and recommendations that ultimately will be forwarded to the Planning Commission and City Council for their review and action before final adoption of the General Plan in the spring of 2011.

"We encourage citizens to come in and listen to the debate and contribute to the discussion," said City staff member Charles LaClaire, Community Development Director. "We need the participation of the public."

General Plan consultants from Hogle-Ireland Inc. will be present at two of the GPAC meetings, on Nov. 15 and Dec. 6, and are expected to lead an additional Community Workshop for public input on the General Plan Update in early February 2011.
